Café Moskau

Despite the fall of the Berlin Wall, the sought-after cellar bar and nightclub in this restaurant remained largely unchanged, drawing partygoers from around the world with its unique atmosphere and music videos. The Moskau has a total area of around 3.500 sqm divided into 15 room variations on three floors. These are equipped with state-of-the-art conference equipment and can be used for a diverse range of social and business events. After passing the mosaic at the entrance, one enters the foyer. The rooms on the ground floor are grouped around a glass conservatory. Not only does this make it possible to see through the whole building, the area represents a light and airy extension that's very popular in the summer months. The Moskau Hall, Kaukasus and the Foyer-Bar as well as the Riga and Minsk salons are location on the upper floor. Covering around 360 sqm and fully equipped with high-end sound and lighting systems, a nightclub is located in the basement.
